OIL MEN SEEK EXTENSION OF TIME FOR WORK

Following a meeting held at Minden Tuesday evening, when Hon. Albert H. Hall, secretary of the interior, was met by a delegation of oil men, the oil men are seeking an extension of time for work on the Nevada oil fields. The oil men are seeking an extension of time for work on the Nevada oil fields.

Secretary Hall knows the west and the conditions that confront the men who are striving for the upbuilding of neglected and remote sections, having made his home in New Mexico for many years, and it is believed that after viewing the situation and being shown the extreme need for leniency on the part of empire builders, owing to the financial stagnation throughout the nation, that he will take favorable action in the premises.

The secretary of the interior, accompanied by his assistant, Stephen T. Mather, H. G. Hanna, his clerk, E. O. McCornick, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific, and L. C. Jones, his secretary, arrived in Minden after an auto trip from the Yosemite valley. Following a dinner given in his honor he received the following committee from Fallon, who presented matters relative to oil land development for his consideration: Joseph Hutchinson, A. S. Moore, T. J. Vencil and Mayor H. A. Clark.

Following this meeting Secretary Hall heard a committee interested in the Nevada irrigation project, and the gentleman showed deep interest in the matter. It was the general belief that Secretary Hall will be found a staunch supporter of the project and may be counted upon to assist in any way possible in making the undertaking a success.
